

Dry Beans

Michigan is the second largest dry bean producer in the United States.

Dry beans are a low-fat protein source full of fiber, vitamins and minerals.

Michigan farmers are the top producers of black beans, cranberry beans and small red beans.